REPORT PROVES INSTITUTE HAD BUSY 12 MONTHS

Nearly 600 sailors were entertained at concerts held in the fiscal year of 1915, and 324 visits were made to vessels in the harbor of Honolulu in that time, according to the twelfth annual report of the Seamen's Institute, distributed today.

Superintendent Charles F. Mant's report for the year, included in the publication, shows the institute to have had a very successful year. The completion and opening of the Panama Canal to the world's shipping has already brought many large steamers to Honolulu for coal on their way east, and it is very evident that in the future there will be a large increase in the traffic across the Pacific, of which we shall undoubtedly have our share," he says in part.

In the year, the captains, pursers and officers of the steamers Manchuria, Korea, Siberia, Matsonia, Wilhelmnia and Lurline contributed a total of $258.19 to the general funds of the institute. The institute's saving bank helped a number of sailors to save money, and $690 was deposited temporarily during the year, for safekeeping.

The report of Treasurer H. McK. Harrison shows the institute's receipts in the fiscal year from June 30, 1914, to June 30, 1915, to have been $5,642.61, and the disbursements to have aggregated $4,434.34, leaving a balance on hand of $1,208.07.

Officers of the Seamen's Institute of Honolulu are: L. Tenney Peck, chairman of committee; H. M. von Holt, vice-chairman; Ed Towse, secretary; H. McK. Harrison, treasurer; W. W. M. Mist, auditor; Chas. F. Mant, superintendent.

On the committee are the following: Wm. A. Bowen, Jos. P. Cooke, A. D. Cooper, T. C. Davies, Gen. E. Davis, Wm. G. Hall, H. McK. Harrison, Dr. W. C. Hobdy, H. W. M. Mist, H. M. von Holt, L. Tenney Peck, and Ed Towse.

FEW DAYS MORE FOR EXPERT ADVICE

Honolulu people should not fail to take advantage of their present opportunity to consult with experts in regard to interior decoration. Mr. E. J. Hutman, Mr. O. W. Ambler and Mr. A. M. Morgenthaler, each an authority in his line, will be at Lewers & Cooke's store until January 26th and without price will gladly give advice regarding wall papers, mural decorations, tapestries, linens, draperies, period furniture, etc.—Adv.

PRESIDENT HAS ROCKS AHEAD IN MILITARY PLANS

Some Democrats as Well as Republicans are Likely to Make Way Rough

By C. S. ALBERT.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.—The tug of war in Congress began early in the New Year. The administration program will be hammered by Democrats as well as Republicans, it is now certain. It becomes more apparent every day that the contest over the preparedness recommendations of the President will be warm and long drawn out.

The Democrats of the House who support the view of the President are handicapped by having the party leader, Representative Claude Kitchin, lined up with the opposition. Mr. Kitchin has said that he will not oppose the national defense program as leader of the House, but as an individual congressman. Those who know the impetuous and pugnacious Kitchin do not believe for a minute that the present representative in the House will stand idly by and permit fellow congressmen to nag him. It is feared by Democrats that he will turn loose a lot of bitter language, charging men and newspapers with being influenced by the manufacturers of arms and munitions of war. The prospect for bitter, turbulent and wasteful days in the House is very bright.

All Washington is exercised at this time over the visit of Col. E. M. House of Texas and New York to the belligerent countries as a special representative of the President. The silent man of mystery has announced that he will go abroad to take certain information to American diplomats that cannot well be transmitted by mail or wire. He will see Ambassadors Page at London, Gerard at Berlin, Sharp at Paris and Page at Rome. He may go to Russia, also. It is reported that a congressional investigation will be asked for to ascertain the facts about Col. House. Such an inquiry might not reveal very much, for Col. House is to represent the President, not the Senate.

The return of the President and Mrs. Wilson to the White House has opened what promises to be the most brilliant social season Washington has had in years. The White House receptions will be features of the season. Being pretty, gracious and personally very popular, Mrs. Wilson will be quite an attraction at the Executive Mansion this winter.

Fort Shafter Notes

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
FORT SHAFTER, Jan. 22.—Col. and Mrs. Walter H. Chatfield and Mrs. Tupper will resume their "at homes" on Saturday evenings commencing tonight. These delightful affairs add much to the gaiety of the garrison life and every one is delighted that they will be resumed.

A circular letter has been issued by the quartermaster at the fort to all officers and organization commanders requesting them to submit on or before February 1 a list of repairs required during the fiscal year 1917 for their quarters and barracks for the men. The quartermaster expects to make many improvements during the year, especially in the cantonment and the request was made so the estimates could go in and the money be allotted by the war department before June 30, the end of the present fiscal year. Among the improvements will be an addition for the guard house and stationary wash tubs in the houses in the cantonment.

Mrs. Frederick F. Black was hostess Monday on ladies' night at the 2d Infantry Club. Five tables of bridge were played and Mrs. W. B. Cochran having the highest score won the prize—an attractive Canton dish. Among those playing cards Monday evening were: Capt. and Mrs. Alden C. Knowles, Lieut. and Mrs. D. J. Greeno, Lieut. and Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham, Lieut. and Mrs. F. F. Black, Capt. and Mrs. Peck, Mrs. M. J. Lenihan, Capt. and Mrs. W. B. Cochran, Madame Cochran, Maj. and Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Mrs. Pearson, Capt. and Mrs. Harker and others.

After two days of energetic work the engineers have repaired the main road across the gulch from the main post to the cantonment so that automobiles can cross and traffic be resumed. The large motor truck resumed its regular run this morning and will continue its route on the rear road. All of the deep gullies have been filled and crushed rock spread over the repaired places. The concrete bridge, too, has been put in good condition and now few evidences remain of the recent damage.

The aerodrome management has announced that within the near future it will give a big smoker to the enlisted men of the garrison. The night will be free to the men of Fort Shafter, admission being to holders of ordinary

HILO BOARD OF TRADE TO GIVE CUP FOR GUARD

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
HILO, Jan. 14.—In order to promote interest in the National Guard and to help along the proposition as much as possible a committee was appointed some time ago to look into the matter and suggest some means of attaining the desired end. This committee has now reported back to the Hilo board of trade and declares that it is in favor of offering a handsome silver cup for competition among the various companies of the guard for the best drill put up by any of those bodies.

The contests are to be started before March 31, and they are to be continued at six months intervals. The cup has to be won twice by a company before it becomes the property of the organization.

BURGLARY ATTEMPTED IN CAMPBELL BLOCK?

Supposed burglars entered the office of A. J. Campbell in the Campbell block on Merchant street last night, but, if the surmise is right that they were burglars, did not take anything or leave any traces other than an open back door. Policeman Pokahu found the open door and noticed Campbell, who left his home late at night to examine the office. He found nothing had been taken.

aerodrome tickets, which will be simply shown but not punched. The program for the evening has not yet been given out. After a week of rain which prevented many from attending the regular movies this information comes as a most pleasant surprise.

The following transfer of enlisted men in the regiment have been made: Pvt. Ray T. Williams from Co. K to Co. L and Pvt. Elmer H. Long from Co. L to Co. K.
